Prologue

"Your Majesty!" Shark flashed in aquatic.

"What?" I flashed back.

"Your egg is hatching!" he flashed excitedly.

I swam as fast as I could down into the hatchery. It is finally time! The last egg I have kept is hatching! I pushed open the door to the hatchery and clutched the small blue egg in my talons. The top of the egg burst open and a small dark blue head popped out. Then the wings and all that was left was an empty shell. I could feel the tears coming from my eyes. At last! A daughter! I have waited too long for this. The small dragonet covered her eyes with her tiny wings and curled up in my talons.

"I shall protect you my love" I flashed.

"Mother?" Anemone flashed opening the door.

"Welcome Lapis your new sister into the kingdom" I flashed.

Hey guys!! I am sorry this prologue took so long! I was really busy. Sorry its so short too. Love your guys with all my heart!

Chapter 1

"But mother! Please, I want to go to Jade Mountain!" I whined pulling against the harness.

"Not until you are older!" she hissed, pulling me close.

"Fine," I muttered under my breath.

"Now let's go! We have some old friends to visit"

I was dragged along with Mother and my sister Anemone. I was the youngest and got the most attention from my mother. A little too much sometimes. It was kind of annoying being the youngest. Anemone was the best family member though. She played with me and showed me how to fish, she was perfect and I wanted to be just like her.

"Anemone can we play after we visit some 'old friends'?" I asked trotting up to Anemone.

"Of course little Lapis" she whispered.

"Yay!" I exclaimed, jumping up and down.

We flew out of the Summer Palace and flew up to the top level, that is where the visitors usually go. I saw out of the corner of my eye a black shadow.

"Mama? Who is visiting?" I asked flying up to mother

"Queen Blister my love" she answered. We landed softly next to Blister.

"Good evening, your highness." Blister snarled. "You brought the misfit I see"

"Hey!" I squeaked in protest . "I'm not a misfit!"

"SILENCE LAPIS!" Mother roared.

Blister chuckled and the guards flew up and dived down into the water. I watched as Blister embraced mother in a hug. Blister shot me a glare and continued to hug my mother.

"Now let us get down to business Coral" Blister sneered. "How is the training doing with Anemone? Is she ready for battle?"

"Almost she still needs to master the enchantment your greatness" Mother said. I turned my head and saw Anemone wincing.

"Mama can I go play with Anemone and go to the beach?" I asked

"Yes you may." she answered.

I bounded over to the end and dove down into the water. I looked behind me as I opened my wings, Anemone was gliding down towards me. Before I hit the water I soared upwards and opened my wings. I looked down and saw Anemone dive into the water. I giggle softly and dove into the water. The water was crystal clear and I looked around, trying to find Anemone but she was nowhere to be found. I flashed my scales bright and still couldn't find her. I swam upwards towards the surface, I flew out of the water and up towards the top level.

"Mama! I can't find Anemone!" I exclaimed.

"My apologies your highness" Mother said. "Anemone was with you I thought"

"Lapis I'm right here" Anemone said landing on the smooth tiles of the Summer Palace.

"There you are!" I squeaked. Anemone embraced me in a loving hug.

"Queen Coral! We must speak alone" I heard Blister say.

Sorry for not updating! I have been really busy lately and I will hopefully post chapter 2 in the next couple of days. Thanks for your guys support!

Chapter 2

"Queen Coral! We must speak alone" I heard Blister hiss.

"In a minute your highness let me deal with my children" Mother said. "Children go back to your room and play while I speak with Queen Blister. Got it?"

We both nodded and mother unhooked Anemones harness, we lifted off and dove into the water. I opened my eyes and looked at the beauty of the Deep Palace. It was my home, my life, my everything. One thing I hated was mother was very protective of me and I just wanted to live my life.

"Follow me Lapis" Anemone flashed in aquatic. She grabbed my talon and we swam down towards the palace.

The sea lanterns were at full brightness and the Deep Palace was as beautiful as ever. It was the middle of the summer so the ocean was warm and very soothing. The palace was always bursting with life and dragons swimming in every direction. Anemone led me into our room and she let go of my talon.

"So what do you need squid brain?" I flashed accidentally.

"EXCUSE ME?" Anemone flashed at full brightness.

"What?" I flashed. "What did I say?"

"Never mind. But I wanted to give you this before we headed to the beach." Anemone flashed digging through her bed. She pulled out a small pearl necklace with a diamond in the center. She handed it to me and I put it around my neck"Here take this. I want you to have it."

We swam out of the Deep Palace and up towards the Summer Palace. I flew out of the water and shot up like an arrow. I opened my wings wide and smiled. This was where I wanted to be for my whole life. But mother was to strict and barely let me do anything by myself. I have a very large family. I have 30 brothers but my favorite is Turtle. I have 2 sisters, Anemone, Tsunami, and I have 2 half sisters who are part IceWing: Skua and Ice.

"Lapis! Anemone! Please come here" I heard my mother shout. I landed next to mother and so did Anemone. "Blister wants to speak with you Lapis."

"Me?" I asked. Mother nodded.

"Yes young child come" Blister hissed.

Blister pulled me close to her warm body and practically dragged me aside. She covered me with her large wings and hissed again.

"So young child let me tell you something. Your half sisters are from the enemy tribe. You must kill them or turn them in" Blister snarled softly.

"I would never!" I whispered. Blister slapped me across the face with her wing and I dropped to the floor clutching my face.

"AH!" I yelped my vision suddenly going blurry. "MOMMY!"

"WHAT DID YOU DO TO MY CHILD!" Mother roared slashing her tail back and forth. She ran over to me and cradled me in her wings. The last thing I remembered before I passed out was Mother rushed me to the medic.

Chapter 3

I woke up with a sharp pain in my head. I could feel the breeze coming of the ocean and I knew I was in the medics cave. I slowly opened my eyes and saw my mother looking over me.

"Oh thank the moons you alive!" she said relived.

"Of course I'm alive! What happened with Queen Blister?" I asked.

"I struck her with my tail and told her to never touch my daughter again." she said with a slight smile.

I jumped out of the bed and hugged my mother. I was so glad that she protected me against Queen Blister.

Chapter 4

Mother slipped the harness over my head and we flew down to the feast to find something to eat. I was starving so I was happy we were going to get something to eat. When we landed I quickly gobbled down a fish. And then another, and another, until I was full.

"Don't eat so fast you'll get sick Lapis!" Mother scolded.

I saw down and though about what it would be like to be an only child. For one I have 4 sisters and like over 30 brothers and I was somehow the youngest. I was always treated like a tadpole and mother was so overprotective. I suddenly heart gasps.

"Is that the lost princess?" someone gasped.

I had another sister?

Chapter 5

I have another sister? Mother flew up to the top of the pavilion and I followed. We landed and I gasped. A blue SeaWing with royal patterns on her wings was waiting. Behind her was a RainWing, some sort of SandWing, a NightWing, and a MudWing. Mother wrapped her wings around the SeaWing and dragged me along. I slipped on the slippery tiles and fell flat on my snout.

"Ow! Mother! I stubbed my claws!" Anemone called from behind.

"I fell Mother!" I yelled.

"Um Mom, who are they?" The SeaWing asked, looking over mother's shoulder.

"Those are you sisters! Lapis is the dark blue one and Anemone is the light blue one." she said.

"I thought I was the only one!" She hissed.

"Oh darling! I'm sorry to ask but what did that awful lizard Webs name you?" she asked.

"Tsunami. Mother it has been horrible! He didn't let me swim in the ocean! He chained me to a stalagmite! He didn't teach me how to speak aquatic. And he treated me like a tadpole!"

"Oh darling, we will teach you everything!"

Mother looked around and the other dragons behind Tsunami and she screamed.

"WHAT IS A MUDWING DOING IN MY SUMMER PALACE! GUARDS SEIZE THEM!!"

The guards pounced on the MudWing, pinning him down. They began tying woven sea grass around his snout, wings, and talons.

"NO ONE TOUCHES ME!" The RainWing hissed, turning a shade of bright red.

"Mother! Please, they aren't harmful! They are from the prophecy!" Tsunami roared.

"Oh the Dragonets of Destiny!" Mother said. "Guards release the MudWing and find them a warm cave to rest in"

"But are they the Dragonets?" Shark hissed, starting to untie the MudWing.

"Do as I say Shark! I am queen. I make the orders! Now go!" Mother said.

Tsunami came up to me and looked deeply into my eyes. She cocked her head and pushed past me next going to Anemone.

"So you guys are my sisters right?" she asked.

"Yeah. Wait.. are you the dragonet from 'The Missing Princess'!" I shouted.

"I think so!" she said smiling.

Tsunami picked me up and wrapped her wings around me in a loving embrace. I have a sister! She is the best! Hopefully she can stay with us forever! She set me down and went over to the other dragons.

"Clay I need you to make sure Glory doesn't get out of hand and starts burning the SeaWings faces off with her magic death spit." Tsunami said.

"WE ARE NOT CALLING IT MAGICAL DEATH SPIT!" the RainWing named Glory hissed.

Tsunami gave her a look and came over to us again. Shark flew off and Tsunami's friends followed close behind.

"Well what do you want to do first?" she asked.

"Oh Tsunami! We must take you to Whirlpool! Since you don't know how to speak aquatic he can teach you! Lapis and Anemone will come for an extra lesson! First I need to grab something from my room." Mother said excitedly.

I rolled my eyes and mother lifted off and I was dragged along as usual. I had wondered when Tsunami would have a harness. She would probably have one by the end of the day. Mother was way to over protective when it came to her daughters. I flew closer to Tsunami.

"Whirlpool is the most boring teacher ever! I have to go to his lessons everyday!" I whispered into her ear.

I was jerked to the side because mother flew down into the water. I dove ito the water with a SPLASH and followed mother down into our rooms. She grabbed a pearl necklace and we swam up to the surface. We flew up and out of the water and we flew into Whirlpool's cave.

"Oh Whirlpool!" Mother called. You could tell she was obsessed with him.

"Here your majesty!" he called back. "I am working on your new scroll!"

"Wonderful! Meet the lost princess: Tsunami" mother said.

"SHE HAS RETURNED!" he yelled loudly.

"Yes she has! I need you to teach her how to speak aquatic. Also I need you to give Lapis the animus test."

"Of course! Let's begin the test!" he said , grabbing a coconut off of his desk.

"Um mother what am I supposed to do?" I asked as mother lifted the harness over my head.

"Just enchant it to float." she said.

Whirlpool set the coconut in front of me and backed away with a smug look on his face.

"Uh I-I enchant this coconut to float up into the air." I said. A moment later and the coconut was flying around the air and then it dropped onto Whirlpool's head. I giggled softly.

"SIS! YOUR AN ANIMUS!" Anemone yelled running up to me.

"I-I am?!" I stuttered.

"That's awesome darling! Now Whirlpool give my long lost daughter her lesson and I will take Lapis and Anemone to the feast." mother said. "Lapis! Anemone! Come along darlings!"

Mother put my harness back on and we flew out of the cave and up towards the Summer Palace. We landed into the feasting area to grab something to eat.

"Mom can I go visit Tsunami's friends?" I asked.

"Yes but be careful darling!" she said unclipping my harness.

I bounded off towards the end of the tiled floor and jumped off. I opened my wings and flew into the cave that I saw Shark and the other dragons fly into.

"Hello?" I whispered.

"Glory get your magical death spit ready!" I heard someone whisper.

"No! It's Coral's daughter!" another voice hissed. A light suddenly turned on and there was the dragons.

"Glory! Grab her!" the MudWing named Clay said. I quickly twisted around and quickly avoided Glory grabbing me.

"Hey! It's just me! I wanted to talk to you guys!" I said. When suddenly I was bonked over the head and I passed out.

Chapter 6

I woke up next to a fire. I opened my eyes and saw the 4 dragons looking over me.

"Why did you knock me out! You are my mother's guests!! I am her daughter!" I yelled

"Sorry Glory got out of control." the weird SandWing said cheerfully. "I'm Sunny!"

"Who are the others?" I asked.

"The MudWing is Clay, the RainWing who was supposed to be a SkyWing is Glory, and the NightWing is Starflight." she said pointing to each one of them.

"Can I go back to my mother?" I asked nervously.

"Yes of course!" Sunny answered.

I got up and sprinted out of the cave and I flew up to the top of the Summer Palace where I knew my mother would be waiting. And just as I suspected there she was giving me a dirty look when suddenly Anemone barrel rolled into me, wrapping her wigs around me.

"WHERE WERE YOU LAPIS!" Mother shouted. "YOU COULD HAVE BEEN KILLED!!"

"Sorry the RainWing got nervous and knocked me out not knowing I was your daughter. Sorry mother." I mumbled.

"That's it! You will not be going anywhere without me and your harness will always stay on." she roared in anger.

"No! I'm a year old mom! I can fend for myself!" I protested. "For three moons sake Anemone is two and she has a harness and I bet Tsunami will have one by the end of the day!"

"Lapis! You listen to your mother!" Mother roared in anger.

"I'M DONE BEING TREATED LIKE A TADPOLE! I WANT TO SEE THE WORLD!" I roared back, tears streaming down my face.

"LAPIS GO TO YOUR ROOM!" she roared.

I flew out of the Summer Palace and dove into the water. I swam down and through all the rooms until I reached mine. I wanted to scream. I swam into my bed and buried myself in the bedding. I suddenly felt a tapping on my wing.

"Hello?" I flashed, uncovering myself.

There was Tsunami looking over me. She grabbed my talon and pulled me up to the surface.

"I'm so glad you're finally here!" I said hugging Tsunami tightly.

"I didn't know I had sisters! This is amazing!" she exclaimed.

"So how are you liking the palace?" I asked.

"It's great! But I'm scared that mother will have me in a harness by the end of the day!" she chuckled.

There was a splash and my mother's head popped up. She looked kind of upset but I smiled to brighten her mood. She clipped my harness back on.

"We must go attend something, my darlings." she said. A moment later Anemone's head popped up.

I followed her and she swam down and out of the room. We swam through the tunnel and up into the ocean. I could feel the sun shining on my scales and we flew out of the water. We flew up to the top of a cliff and I gasped. There was a dead SkyWing at the bottom of the cliff. She looked like she was stabbed through the chest.

"Your majesty, this is the SkyWing we were talking about." one of the guards who came with us said. I looked at Tsunami and her face was full of worry.

"Tsunami? Is something wrong dear?" my mother asked.

"Um. Uh..nothing is wrong mother." she said nervously.

"Guards please dispose of her body" mother said flying up into the air. I flew up with her and so did the rest of my sisters. "Darlings. Queen Blister will be visiting again today to meet the Dragonet Of Destiny so we need to get ready."

We flew down into the tunnel and we flew back up to the Summer Palace. I could see the guards escorting Queen Blister up to the feasting area of the Summer Palace. We flew into the area and sat down at the table. The Dragonets Of Destiny were already sitting down.

"Good evening Coral." Blister said. "The guards have informed me that you found a dead SkyWing in your territory."

"Yes. I asked my daughter who just showed up and she said she didn't know who the SkyWing was." Mother said.

"Oh is that so...Tsunami? Do you really not know who that SkyWing was? Did she feel like family?" Blister chuckled.

"I did know that SkyWing." Tsunami mumbled. "She was one of our guardians who raised us."

"Kestrel is dead!" Sunny shrieked. I watched as the SandWing went pale and started sobbing uncontrollably.

"Now Coral. May I speak to Lapis alone please?" Blister asked. I started to tense up and shrunk down into my chair.

"Yes, why of course!" Mother said unclipping my harness.

Blister covered me with her wing as she stepped out of the chair. She shot me a glare and then said:

"Did you kill your half sisters?"

"No I would never!" I whispered. Blister let go of me and sat down back at her chair grinning.

I quickly sat down and ate some of the octopus on the table. I had always wondered why Blister hated Ice and Skua so much. I mean half of them are from the enemy. I also don't get why Blister isn't mad at mother, I mean for three moons sake mother had an affair with the enemy. She should be mad at mother , not my sisters.

"So it's so nice to meet you Dragonets Of Destiny!" Blister said cheerfully. Tsunami shot her a glare and continued to eat her squid. "So where is the SkyWing?"

"The egg and our guardian were thrown off a cliff. So Webs grabbed a RainWing egg." Tsunami explained.

"Well. I'm going to go rest up in my cave." Blister said walking towards the edge then she jumped off and flew into her cave.

"Guards please escort the Dragonets back to their cave." Mother said. Shark and the other guards escorted them back to the cave.

"Mother?" I asked. "Why does Blister hate Skua and Ice so much?"

"They are half IceWing darlings." she began. "They are from the enemy,"

"We need to get to the council meetings darling. Tsunami!" she said. Tsunami soon appeared after a few seconds.

We flew out of the Summer Palace and over to where we had a couple meetings. Everyone was already there patiently waiting for mother to tell them to eat. I sat down in my pool and so did my other sisters. I looked around at all of the familiar faces and smiled. This is where I wanted to be my whole life. I love this. I watched as Tsunami started slurping down some octopus tentacles. Everyone gasped and so did I.

"I'm so sorry about my daughter. You all may eat." mother said.

"Now I must report that two of our soldiers were attacked." Shark said as two bloody and burnt SeaWings walked in.

I turned pale as I saw all of the blood dripping onto the floor. I felt sick and wanted to throw up.

"Mama I'm going to step out." I said.

"If you must." she said, unclipping my harness. I left and dove into the water and down into my room.

I stopped because I heard something moving. I peeked through the door and watched as my father, Gill, was talking to Skua in aquatic.

"You will never be one of us!" he flashed. Then she struck her across the snout.

She fell to the ground screaming and clutching her snout. She looked over at my face and she blacked out. I ran hoping father wouldn't catch me. I hid behind the door until he left. I swam in and hugged Skua. Her face was scratched and the blood was making the water cloudy. I didn't want to be seen with her so I left. I swam into my room and fell asleep in my bed.

Chapter 7

{Lapis's dream}

Lapis walked along the beach waiting for her love to find her. She had been secretly meeting an IceWing at the beach for the last week. She didn't want her mother to find her speaking with the IceWing so she kept him hidden. Lapis was older now and her mother finally let her live her life without a harness. Now that her mother isn't as protective of her daughters she has become miserable. She is lonely.

"Lapis? Are you here?" a voice said behind her. An IceWing emerged from the bushes and embraced Lapis in a cold hug.

"Of course I'm here! I miss you, my love!" Lapis exclaimed.

"Now when are the eggs going to hatch darling?" the IceWing asked.

"Oh Amur! They are well hidden and hopefully will hatch in the next month or two." Lapis said smiling. "Now don't you worry! Those eggs will be perfectly fine!"

"Hopefully they all make it and hatch alright." Amur said. "I must be going to Lapis. I will see you tomorrow my love."

"Goodbye Amur!" Lapis said bumping snouts with him.

Amur flew off and Lapis went to check on her eggs. She trudged through the forest until she found the clearing. 2 light blue eggs laid in the clearing. They were wrapped in seaweed and other things that Lapis found in the forest. Safe and sound she thought. Lapis kissed each one of the eggs and she left. She dove into the water and down into the Sea Kingdom. If her mother ever found out about her secret love she would be dead. If only her mother would accept him. But Queen Coral was a stubborn SeaWing. But Lapis still loved her.

Chapter 8

I woke up with a shudder. That dream was horrible! Am I really going to have a "Secret Love " when I'm older. I really hope that dream doesn't come true. I swam out of my room and through the tunnel to the ocean. I grabbed a fish and swam back through the tunnel. I was swimming calmly when I was suddenly blinded. I was thrown against the wall and I screamed in pain. Whoever was doing this was going to pay. I flashed my scales at full brightness and twisted out of the grip of my captor. I ripped off my blindfold and looked around. There was no one. The water was getting cloudy from my blood and it was getting hard to see. I swam up to the surface and I flew up to the Summer Palace.

"MAMA!" I yelled barrel rolling into her.

"WHAT?" she yelled back.

"I HAD AN AMAZING NAP!" I yelled again.

"Wow that's awesome but why are you yelling?" she said, hugging me tighter.

I decided not to tell her that I was attacked. I knew she would worry even more. But what about Skua? Is she okay? This was a horrible situation. I just hoped that Skua was ok, Dada hit her pretty hard.

"Mama? Where is Skua?" I asked.

"I'm not sure. The last time I saw her she was going down to the Deep Palace." she replied.

I dove into the water and quickly swam down to the Deep Palace. I swam past all of the rooms until I got to the one where Skua was hit. There she was. Her face was bruised and still bleeding.

"Skua! Are you okay? I saw my father hit you!" I flashed.

"Yeah. I'm fine but my snout hurts really bad." she flashed back. I nodded and signaled for her to follow me.

She followed me through the rooms until we were outside of the Deep Palace. We flew up to where Mother was. I looked over my shoulder and I saw Skua's eyes welling with tears.

"Oh there you are Lapis!" Mother exclaimed. "Your father is dead."

"W-What?" I stuttered, starting to cry. "But he escaped the SkyWings!"

"Yes but he just went out to gather some more fish and our guards found his body." my mother said sadly. "I'm so sorry darling. I miss him too."

And just like that I collapsed on the floor, crying uncontrollably.

Chapter 9

Mother wrapped her wings around me and cried. We were both devastated. Anemone squeezed in between us and we each stood there sobbing and devastated.

"M-Mother...What...are we...going to...do?" I managed to choke out in between sobs.

"I'm not sure darling but we must find a new king." she said.

But before I could say anything else a big fiery ball crashed through the Summer Palace. We were being attacked by the SkyWings! I looked up and saw the guards starting to fight. I screamed and covered myself with my wings. Another one hit right next to me and I was blasted into the water.

"LAPIS!!" I heard my mother scream. There was another splash and mother picked me up.

My head was spinning and my body felt like it was on fire. This was the worst pain I had ever felt in my entire life. I just hoped that Skua and Ice were okay. What about the Dragonets Of Destiny! We splashed through the surface of the water and I flew out of my mother's grasp. There were SeaWings screaming and fighting for their lives. I knew we would get out of here alive. I flew ahead and my neck was grabbed by one of the SkyWings. I was jerked to the side and then stabbed in the chest with one of the SkyWings spears. Blood spilled out of my chest and I gasped for air. The spear wasn't down deep enough to kill me but it would make a mark. I was thrown aside and I bumped into the sides of the protective shield for the Summer Palace. I tried to fly forward but I managed to fly out of the Summer Palace instead. I splashed into the water and screamed. The salt water was stinging the wound on my chest. I swam as fast as I could to the shore of Pyrrhia and I dragged my body onto the shore. I got up and headed for the forest. I collapsed in pain and the world of darkness surrounded me.

Chapter 10

I opened my eyes and the world started appearing. The sandy shores and the salty sea. My chest was bloody and bruised and the pain was unbearable. I suddenly noticed that my pearl necklace and harness was ripped off and I was alone, stranded, and afraid.

"M-Mother" I called out weakly.

I was alone with no one. I got up and walked through the forest. It was a little bit muddy but I didn't mind. I was not getting back into the water to wash off. My home was gone. My family was gone. What am I going to do? Will I ever find my family again?

"Lapis! Are you there?!" a voice called out. It sounded like Mother.

I ran through the forest until I reached a clearing. There was my mother soaked in a puddle of blood.

"MOTHER ARE YOU ALRIGHT?" I screamed barrel rolling into her.

"I'm alright. I made it out alive but I don't know where your sisters are." she said. "I had an egg in the nursery! The last egg from Gill. A DAUGHTER!"

"Mother please calm down." I said comforting her.

"My last daughter Lapis! I can't calm down! My daughters are missing and might be dead! I CAN'T CALM DOWN!" she yelled.

My mother was on a rampage of exhausted anger and rage. I felt my little eyelids slowly fall down as I curled up and fell into a much needed rest.

Chapter 11

I woke up to the sound of the whistling birds and the soft sound of the waves crashing against the sand. I didn't want to wake up but I had to help nurse my mother back to health and I needed to find my other siblings. I got up and nuzzled my mother awake.

"Hm? What do you need Lapis?" she asked.

"I'm going to go fly around the Summer Palace to see if there's any survivors." I said.

"Alright but please be safe." she said.

I nodded and flew up and out of the forest. The sun was starting to rise and I could smell the salty odor coming from the ocean. I flew into the Summer Palace and noticed that there were a lot of dead dragons floating in the water, mostly SkyWings but some were SeaWings. I flew around looking for any of the survivors and then I spotted Skua floating in the water.

"SKUA!" I yelled. I splashed into the water and swam up to Skua.

I shook her but she didn't move so instead I flipped her onto her back and saw she had a deep bloody scratch down her chest. I almost puked but I needed to keep it together. I picked her up and flew with all my might back to the island where my mother was. When all of a sudden I was grabbed by strong talons. I looked up and saw a large SkyWing holding me. The SkyWings must not of left! Now what am I going to do? I roared and tried to bite the SkyWing. He dropped me into the water but grabbed Skua.

"SKUA NO!!!!" I yelled at the top of my lungs. I watched as the SkyWing flew away with my sister. I was way too tired and my body ached so I didn't chase after them. Instead I swam back to the island and took some time to rest. I'll save Skua when I wake up.

Chapter 12

I woke up with a good feeling. But then I remembered that the SkyWings had taken Skua! I flew up and looked around. I flew towards where I thought the Sky Palace would be. After a couple of hours I made it. I could see just over the horizon the palace. The sudden shriek scared me and I dove into the trees. I crashed into the forest and landed on the forest floor. I got onto my feet and looked around, I then decided to walk to the palace.

"There it is!" I muttered to myself. The wall of stone was in front of me.

I flew up and quickly ducked into the crowd of MudWings, SkyWings, and visiting Sandwings from Burn's army. I ducked down to the floor and crawled down the steps and then I saw a big door. I entered and started to hear the groaning and moaning of the prisoners. I walked past each of the cells looking for Skua. Until I came to the last one. There she was chained to the floor asleep. I tried to quietly pick the lock but it was no use. Until it dropped to the floor. Skua woke with a start and she started smiling when she saw me.

"Skua!" I whispered. She came through the darkness and came face to face with me. I knew she couldn't talk because she had a thick metal chain tightly wrapped around her snout.

I quietly opened the door and started unchaining her. When suddenly I heard talon steps. I quickly ducked into the shadows of the cage and held my breath. But then I remembered I left the door open!

"Sparrow! Why is the door open to the hybrid cage?" one of the SkyWings grunted.

"I didn't leave it open.." a timid voice said. SLAM! The door shut and I was stuck inside.

The SkyWing left and I let out a sigh. Now I am stuck here with my half sister. How was I supposed to get out? Now what! I'm stuck here and my mother doesn't even know! How could this get any worse! And it was like I predicted the future, something worse happened.

Chapter 13

The prison door opened slowly and two yellow eyes started to come in. The body started to form but at that moment I realized who the figure was. It was Queen Burn.

"So this is the hybrid you wanted me to see?" She hissed, pushing Skua into the wall. Her limp body hit the wall with a sharp crack.

"Yes your majesty." one of the SkyWing guards said. "But there seems to be another dragonet in here."

The SkyWing shot their talon into the darkness and managed to grab a hold of my tail. I hissed and roared as the guard flung my body to the ground.

"Who are you?!" Burn demanded.

"P-Princess Lapis of the SeaWings..." I stuttered.

"Why are you here?" she asked.

"I came..to rescue...my half sister...Skua."

"Lock the door and I want this hybrid to fight in the arena tomorrow at dawn." Burn hissed slamming the door shut.

My body collapsed onto the floor and I winced in pain. I lifted my head and turned it to see Skua. There was blood everywhere and I was pretty sure she was dead but I didn't give up hope. I dragged my body towards her and laid my head on her.

"Skua...if...your...still alive...flash your scales.." I whispered. And a moment later her scales lit up. "I will...fight...for...you."

I fell asleep on her cold and stiff body and waited for the next day to come.

The next morning I woke up frantically. Today was the day I was going to convince the guard to let me fight for Skua.

"Morning hybrid and other SeaWing." a SkyWing guard grunted, opening the door.

"I want to fight for my sister. Just today." I immediately said.

"Alright but you may not survive," he said. He clamped a metal clamp around my neck with a chain attached to it.

He led me through the giant doors and out into the arena. The sun was blinding as I stepped out of the shadows. The SkyWings and other visitors were cheering and chanting. I looked across the arena and saw a giant IceWing with scars across her face. The SkyWing dropped my chain and left the arena.

"SKYWINGS AND MUDWINGS! VISITING SANDWINGS! WELCOME TO THE ARENA! ON THE LEFT SIDE WE HAVE AMUR THE ICEWING! AND ON THE RIGHT WE HAVE...one moment please...PRINCESS LAPIS FROM THE SEAWINGS!!" a SkyWing yelled from up above. I stepped forward into the sun.

"TALONS READY! FIRE READY!! BEGIN!!" And then time stopped. The IceWing shot forward and tried to lunge at me.

Before he could grab my small form I quickly jumped out of the way, Amur hissed and opened his mouth. Small ice crystals formed around him and he blasted the ice towards me. I quickly dodged but the icicles hit my tail. My tail started to freeze and it hurt really bad.

"JUST LET ME WIN DRAGONET!" Amur roared angrily.

"I JUST WANNA GO HOME!" I yelled back.

Amur shot another blast of frost breath and it hit me dead on. The icicles formed across my body and I yelped in pain. When the ice hit my scales it froze onto it. I curled up into a small ball and cried. But I realized if I didn't win I would die. I decided to use my animus magic. I got up and roared.

"I enchant this IceWing to die when I touch it," I said.

I walked up to the IceWing and put my small talon onto him. And just like that he exploded into dust. My whole body was freezing and I felt like dying but I didn't give up.

"PRINCESS LAPIS OF THE SEAWINGS HAS WON!" the announcer roared.

The crowd went wild! I slowly dragged myself back to the prison and the SkyWing guard escorted me to my cell. I collapsed onto the stone floor and groaned in agony.

"Are...you...okay?" Skua managed to mumble.

"Yeah....brrrrr...just really ....c-c-cold" I stuttered. It had been a long day and I was very tired so I decided to take a nap.

—----------

I was rudely awakened by one of the SkyWing guards stabbing me with their spears. My body was unfrozen but my body was aching. I still couldn't believe I won the match.

"The queen would like to see you so I am escorting you to the throne room." the SkyWing said. "Now follow me!"

I quickly jumped to my talons and followed the grumpy SkyWing. He led me up the stairs and through a door. And there before me was Queen Scarlet.

Chapter 14

Queen Scarlet had a grin starting to form on her face and I hissed softly. The SkyWing guard pushed me in front of the queen with his spear.

"So you must be Lapis?" Queen Scarlet said happily.

"That's Princess Lapis to you!" I muttered to myself.

"What was that? I didn't quite hear you Lapis." she hissed. I looked up at her and narrowed my eyes. She was the enemy and I had to figure out how to kill her.

"I said I am Princess Lapis!" I said louder so she could hear.

She stepped down from the throne and came to face me. Her eyes were like two yellow gems and they glowed with evil.

"I am the queen here and you are not the princess!" she roared. "Guards lock her in the cage next to my throne! She will be my art piece since that RainWing escaped with her friends. AND WHAT IS EVEN WORSE IS SHE LEFT THIS MARK ON MY FACE!"

"Yes, your highness." the SkyWing guard said. He dragged me up to the throne and threw me into the cage next to it.

I watched as Scarlet swiftly leaped up onto her throne and sat down. She gave me a menacing look and started to talk with the guard. The cage was smaller than the one with Skua but at least it was brighter and it didn't reek of dead things.

"Guards, please go retrieve the accessories I made for my art piece!" Scarlet said.

Accessories? Why do I need accessories? I sat down in the cage and sighed. I was so homesick and I just wanted to be with my mother and siblings. And I really missed my father. A moment later one of the guards returned with the accessories. As he came closer I could see the details of them. They must have been made of gold because they sparkled in the light. They were covered in rubies and gems and looked really heavy. The guard came up to the cage and opened the door. In fear I backed into the corner and covered my eyes with my wings.

"I'm not going to hurt you. I just need to put these on so the queen doesn't get angry." the guard whispered. He took a couple steps forward and dropped the jewelry and other accessories onto the floor of the cage.

He picked up a shiny bracelet and clamped it onto my forearm. He continued putting the jewelry onto me. I had to admit it was really heavy and my body felt worn down.

"Horizon, don't forget the head piece, that's the best part!" Scarlet is sad and happy. I saw Horizon sigh as he picked up the last accessory at that moment I realized what it was.

A gold headpiece with rubies and diamonds, but it wasn't just a head piece but it also looked like some sort of metal piece that was on some of the prisoners who had frost breath or fire.. He lifted the head piece over my head and took the other part of it and clamped it onto my snout. It was so tight that I let out a muffled yelp of pain. Scarlet got up out of the throne and came to see me. The guard shut the door and left.

"She looks beautiful! I would never have thought that a SeaWing would look so pretty with my jewels on! She is a perfect art piece for my kingdom!" she exclaimed.

The weight of the metal and jewels made me dizzy and I passed out onto the floor of the cage.

Chapter 15

I woke up in pure panic. The moment I fell unconscious the guards took me to the arena and set my cage down next to where Scarlet would sit. I looked around and saw that there was an IceWing on the left side of the arena and on the right there was a SeaWing who looked like Skua. That is Skua! She's alive but she might not be after this fight.

"MRFFFF!!! SKRFF!" I tried to yell.

"Oh shush! Your an art piece not a noise machine!" Scarlet hissed.

"WELCOME MUDWINGS AND SKYWINGS! AND VISITING SANDWINGS! FOR TODAY'S MATCH WE HAVE PRINCE WINTER OF THE ICEWINGS AND ON THE RIGHT WE HAVE SKUA OF THE SEAWINGS..one moment please.. AND SURPRISINGLY THE ICEWINGS AS WELL!" a long snouted SkyWing yelled.

"MRFFF!!"

"TALONS READY! ICE READY!! BEGIN!" he roared.

I watched as the IceWing lunged at Skua and she backed away in fear. I knew this battle would end shortly because Skua was 2 times the size of him! Skua thrashed her tail back and fourth, I could tell that she was getting ready to strike. She struck him with her large tail and he fell to the ground with a THUMP.

"Now this will be the end of our battle!" Skua roared. She lunged at him with full force and grabbed him wrists and froze them together. She repeated the process until he was fully bonded with ice.

She picked him up by his tail and flew towards me. She froze the cage lock and bindings and grabbed me as well. We flew as far as we could and I could tell that Skua was getting tired because we started to slow down. We suddenly crashed into a tree and my head hit the tree branch with a large CRACK! And I watched the world disappear right in front of me.

Chapter 16

I woke up in pure panic. My sister Skua saved me from being an art piece for the rest of my pitiful life and now there is an unconscious IceWing that I don't even know!

"WHO ARE YOU!" I screamed as loud as I could. The IceWing's head shot up in alert.

"I am Prince Winter of the IceWings!" he hissed back.

"SKUA!" I whined. "HELP!"

"Three moons...what happened?" she said rubbing her temples.

"Oh it's you" Winter sneered.

"Stay away from my sister!" Skua roared, shielding me with her wings.

"I don't want any part of this so I am leaving!" Winter said getting up and stomping through the forest.

"Finally that entitled prince left! Now Lapis which way did you come to get here?" Skua said.

I pointed to the left and we started to walk through the forest. The forest was very eerie and looked very mysterious.

"I think we should fly above instead of walking through the forest." Skua suggested.

"Good idea!" I exclaimed.

We lifted above the treetops and flew towards the ocean. As we got closer I could smell the salty ocean water. We stopped to rest at the Diamond Spray Delta, I lit a camp fire with rubbing two sticks together. I laid down and my little eyelids started to close.

"Good night Sku..." I said but I didn't finish the sentence because I fell asleep.

Chapter 17

I woke up and jumped to my feet. I usually wasn't a morning dragon but I felt great! I finally get to see my mom again! I bounded off towards the sea and stopped. i started to hear a bird tweet very loud. I looked over my shoulder and saw a group of seabird attacking a baby turtle. I ran over and roared, scaring the birds away.

"Hey it's okay little turtle!" I whispered. I picked it up in my small talons and smiled. "You shall be my new pet! I'll name you Bliple!"

"Lapis what are you doing?" Skua asked bounding towards me.

"I found a baby turtle! I'm keeping her as my pet and I'm naming her Bliple!" I replied.

"Let's go back to the forest where you last saw mother." Skua said. I pressed Bliple to my chest and flew back to the forest.

"Mother!" I roared loudly.

"LAPIS?!" I heard a voice that sounded like mother roar. I dove down into the forest where I heard the roar and barrel rolled into mother.

"MAMA!" I screamed in excitement.

"Thank the moons your alive! Oh I see that Skua is with you! Hi Skua!" mother said.

"Yep! I missed you so mu-" I said before I was cut off by a MudWing grabbing my neck and pushing it to the ground.

I let out a shriek of pain but it was quickly muffled by the pressure of the MudWing holding me down.

"YOU LET MY SISTER GO!" Skua yelled as she charged into the MudWing. the MudWing was knocked off balance and fell onto the ground.

I gasped for air and stood up. I could see just beyond the horizon a troop of MudWings flying closer. I turned around to face the MudWing and saw the Skua has put him in a choke lock and was shaking him back and fourth.

"WHO ARE YOU!" she demanded.

"Reed!" he said letting out a wheeze. Skua let go of him and he flopped to the ground.

"Like Clay's brother?" she asked. He nodded and in fear flew back to his troop.

"Well that was weird." I said still catching my breath. I picked up Bliple who was hiding under a tree root and pressed her to my chest.

"Let's go back to the deep palace." Mother said getting up and spreading her wings.

"Good idea." Skua added.

So we flew past and out of the forest and we flew back to home. The place I belonged. Thank the moons my family is safe. I just hope my family is alive at the Deep Palace. I let the thoughts make their way through my head and I flew through the sunset and home.
